In many countries, access to learning content and lifelong learning opportunities remains a challenge. Large parts of the global population can't benefit from existing educational offers due to geographical remoteness and a lack of financial resources.

Marginalised groups such as women and girls, as well as people living in more remote and rural areas, are particularly affected by restrained access to education. This results in a lack of required competencies and difficulties finding employment in local labour markets.

This concern is what we from atingi, together with our partners, set out to change by reaching young people through innovative e-learning offers. Our educational content is developed locally and geared towards decreasing the skills gaps and improving employability for the jobs of the future.

A free digital learning platform. Free technical support. Free expertise.

atingi's free-of-charge learning management system is a cost-saving, scalable and sustainable way for organisations to implement non-profit digital capacity building in the Global South. We offer our platform plus technical support and digital learning project management resources, all 100% free-of-charge to those organisations who wish to conduct digital learning programmes with learners age 16+ residing in the Global South. Join our growing network of 200+ partners!
